THE MERRY WIVES of WINDSOR

Presented by:  PotashCorp

Sir John Falstaff is running low on party funds so he hatches a clever scheme to hustle two wealthy women. A little love and a lot of money is his goal. Sir John has heard that his targets, Mistress

Ford and Mistress Page, have control of their husbands' money. Unfortunately, for Sir John, these merry wives are not just wealthy; they are wise and witty. The two women conspire with a scheme of their own that makes Sir John rue the day. Queen Elizabeth wanted to see Sir John Falstaff in a comedy and Shakespeare delivered with flare. The Merry Wives of Windsor is a fast paced farce that will make everyone, young and old alike, giggle and laugh.

THE MERCHANT of VENICE

Presented by:  SaskTel

Bassanio wants to marry our rich heroine Portia but he needs a loan from his friend Antonio (the Merchant of Venice) to woo her in style. Antonio has invested all his money forcing him to borrow on behalf of his best friend. Shylock, the rich Jew and moneylender, makes the funds available; but cocky Antonio, setting the stakes high, pledges a pound of his own flesh if he forfeits payment. "This is classified as a comedy," you ask. Enter young Launcelot Gobo, one of Shakespeare's best clowns; then add girls disguised as boys pulling pranks on their husbands to be; include prospects of weddings at the finale and you have one of the finest plays that Shakespeare ever wrote. The Merchant of Venice is a show that everyone will enjoy.
